WHAT IS DESIGN + BUILD
Modulex Design + build combines process and product to deliver sign solutions that respond to the needs of your environment and your organization, while managing risk and ensuring the sustainability of your sign program over time.

Our services are informed by over 35 years of direct experience in delivering effective visual communication programs for complex environments.
We take on the responsibilities of designers and contractors, all under one roof. Starting from the initial design to the estimating phase to physical fabrication and implementation. The entire project is completed by a single entity. That means the design and construction phases are sped up, and risks are minimized. Working with one contract rather than two institutions separately reduces costs.
